

Pop-Music.com News

Pop-Music.com - Pop Music's Home Page - news feed

<http://www.pop-music.com/backend.php>

Paul McCartney NY Secret Show 13 June (Tomorrow!)

Fans of Paul McCartney who are in or around New York City tomorrow will get a special chance to see him perform in a very special show. Paul will be performing Wednesday night (June 13th) at the Highline Ballroom in New York City to celebrate the release of his new album 'Memory Almost Full'. Doors for the show will open at 7pm but you'll need to make sure you have your unique access wristband before you head out! Here's two ways you can get to see this special event:

- 1) Limited number of free wristbands are available June 13th from 12.30pm (EDT) at the Highline Ballroom box office only. First come, first serve.
- 2) 5 pairs of tickets are to be given away through PaulMcCartney.com. Simply click on the "News" section of the website and submit your contact details before noon on 13 June.

Best of luck and enjoy the show!

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1282.html>

Kelly Clarkson Admits She's Never Been In Love

It might seem super hard to believe it, but pretty pop princess Kelly Clarkson has admitted that she's never been in love. The 25 year-old Idol winner spills all in this month's issue of Elle Magazine in the US, where she is featured on the cover. She said "I know people probably think I've been heartbroken, because of the stuff I've sung and written. I love my friends and family. But I have never said the words 'I love you' to anyone in a romantic relationship. Ever. I am very old-school, conservative in my thinking when it comes to relationships. Love is something you work at. It doesn't come easily. There are going to be bad days. You are going to have to work at loving someone when they are being an idiot. People think they're just going to meet the perfect guy. Don't be ridiculous."

Poor old Kelly has been going through a rough time recently. There's been a run in with Clive Davis over her upcoming CD, "My December", where he allegedly made an offer of $10 million if Kelly ditched five of her songs for more radio-friendly. In the meantime, expect to see Kelly in a city near you as she travels across the US this summer as part of her tour.

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1281.html>

Rihanna And Her Celebrity Legs Of A Goddess

Pop starlet Rihanna certainly seems to be one of the most favourite stars in the UK at the moment. Not only did she soar to number 1 on the UK singles charts based on downloads alone, but she's kept the top spot for 4 consecutive weeks. And this weekend the Barbados-born 19-year-old's third album, Good Girl Gone Bad, entered the UK Album Chart straight in at number one!

Meanwhile, those legs of hers have also taken top spot - Rihanna has won Venus leg razor's 'Celebrity Legs of a Goddess' award. Check out those award winning pegs in her Umbrella Video next:

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1280.html>

My Chemical Romance Release Teenagers Video And Kick Off Tour

Teenagers, we've all been one, or still are one, and apparently they scare the living day out of My Chemical Romance. Watch how a group of teenage kids tear apart the band in a mash up of music and chaos in their latest single and video for, you guessed it, "Teenagers.". You can catch the video right here at Pop-Music.com:

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1279.html>

Lily Allen Admits To Alcoholism, Buys House

Lily Allen says that the stresses of being on tour have made her turn to drink. She said "I'm an alcoholic now. It's not good and that's why I want to get back into the studio. I've actually pulled myself aside and said it will kill me if I keep it up. I've got to stop abusing myself because as far as I'm concerned every loon hates me now." Even her actor Dad, Keith Allen, is said to be very worried about her.

But there are signs of hope that she'll be back in England and settling down to "normal" life again very soon. She's just splashed out £600,000 on a new home in Hackney, East London. She's set to move in to the new Victorian property with her boyfriend, record label A+R man Seb Chew. And don't forget that you can also catch Lily at Glastonbury (June 22 to 24).

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1278.html>

UB40 Sue Paris Hilton As Jail Time Looms

UB40 is suing Paris Hilton's record label for £250,000 in the High Court in London, claiming breach of copyright over her hit single "Stars Are Blind". Paris, who was at the MTV Movie awards on Sunday, recorded the song last year and it reached a respectable number eighteen on the Billboard Hot 100 charts. However, according to UB40, the song is a copy of a substantial part of Kingston Town, written in 1989 by Kendrick Patrick. Paris is already due to report to prison in California on Tuesday for violating for violating her probation in an alcohol-related reckless driving case - let's hope this latest legal challenge doesn't land her in even more hot water. Do you think the starlet copied the UB40 track? Here are the two songs to help you make up your own mind:

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1277.html>

Accident Forces George Michael To Cancel Prague Show

George Michael has had to cancel this evening's concert in the Czech capital after a truck carrying special equipment for use in the show crashed on the way to the city. The truck was traveling through Romania but it's not been possible to recover the gear in time for this evening's performance. George, who was not involved in the accident, is said to be very disappointed about not being able to perform tonight. There's no word as yet as to when the show will be rescheduled.

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1276.html>

Natalie Portman Stars In Macca's New You Tube Video

Actress Natalie Portman has made a cameo appearance as a ghost in Paul McCartney's Dance Tonight video which premiered on You Tube yesterday. The track is taken from Paul's upcoming 21st solo album - Memory Almost Full. The album is slated to hit stores on June 5 (United States) and will be the first release for Hear Music, Starbuck's Corporation's record label. The video was directed by Michel Gondry (Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind) and also stars Mackenzie Crook (The Office). Click on to watch the video...

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1275.html>

Rihanna Takes Top Spot And Makes History

R&B singer Rihanna has made it to the top of the UK Charts, and has made history doing so. The Barbados-born babe, who was busy performing at Radio One's Big Weekend in Preston this weekend, scored the success with her single "Umbrella". What's special about this achievement is that the single hasn't even gone on sale in physical format yet - the single is due to be released in stores next week (28th May). However, download sales for this track have been so strong that she was able to knock McFly? from the top spot and soar to number 1 on downloads alone. This is the very first time that this has been done since rules changed to make downloads eligible for the chart. What a success story!

Read on to watch the video Umbrella:

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1274.html>

Liberty X Announce Split

In news that will shock many fans, British pop group Liberty X have announced that they will not be recording any further songs together. In a statement on the Official Liberty X Website they said: "We want to let the fans know that Liberty X won't be doing any more recording together. All of us have separate projects we're working on, and are excited about.

"We're still the best of friends and we'll still be doing all the dates on the current club tour. Also, we still intend to come together sometimes as Liberty X for one-off special events".

The group were formed in 2001 on the UK TV Show Popstars, originally calling themselves Liberty but later changing to Liberty X following a clash with another group of the same name. As well as many hit singles (including a UK number one for "Just a Little" in 2002) the band released 3 albums: Thinking It Over, Being Somebody and X.

<http://www.pop-music.com/article1273.html>
